PLEASE NOTE

The date for this auction has changed from the advertised

~~Friday October 16~~

Friday October 23.

We live in interesting times. The current financial crisis has affected a lot of people in many different ways.

The most obvious result of this, as far as Status International is concerned is seller's decision or more probably indecision to sell which is reflected by a lesser number of quality lots in this auction.

The excellent results achieved for many items in our past two auctions have shown however that there are still plenty of buyers out there, for rare and desirable material, and I am sure the same will be seen after this auction.

There is no doubt there has a leveling off or even down turns in certain sections of the market but from my 30+ years of experience, as a coin dealer and auctioneer, I would say these have little to do with the current financial crisis and are more to do with overheated markets cooling off or pausing or current fads going out of fashion.

Having said the above many sellers wait too long and are disappointed when they sell. It is always best to sell on a rising market. Sell at a price you are happy with. Don't worry about what the price will be tomorrow, it may be up, it may be down, in the end that is irrelevant. This advice applies to not only coins, banknotes, other collectibles and of course gold but also to houses and just about everything else. Remember just like the stock market, no one rings a bell at the top or the bottom and very few people manage to guess either.

In this auction we are pleased to offer an extensive range of world coins in top condition as well as many other scarce and rare coins and banknotes that are seldom offered, especially in Australia. It was interesting to catalogue these coins and notes to see how out of date the prices of the current KM & Pick catalogues have become on some coins and notes, relative to the world market. Some volumes of the KM World catalogues are issued yearly but prices of many sections have hardly been updated in over a decade. The prices for gold coins in the current edition are the same as those in the previous edition even though the bullion gold price indicated had come down by $200 per ounce. Even at this lower gold price many coins were catalogued at less than 75% of their gold value!!!!. With catalogues prices so obviously wrong, how relevant or realistic are many of the other catalogue prices????? Our reserves and estimate are based on international market prices, not KM catalogue values.

I recently visited the ANA coin convention in Los Angeles where most of the dealers in foreign (non US) coins, who actually had a half reasonable stock, were doing a very brisk business.

While there I discussed the availability British Commonwealth and foreign coins with a well known dealer. He said he estimated the number of nice UNC coins on the market is probably a quarter of what was available 10 years ago, that retail prices in many cases have doubled or quadrupled but that catalogue prices have remained the same for half the coins. As an example he mentioned UNC Indian QV – KGV 1 rupee coins. He said he used to buy these in London 10-15 years ago for £5 and you could buy any quantity, later they went up to £10, then £20, now they are at least £25 and you hardly see any and now the Indians are starting to buy them back. The KM catalogue value? It still hasn't changed, its still $20.

The catalogue prices for most major countries are sometimes up to date but for smaller countries or countries where there is no home country catalogue, many KM & Pick prices are meaningless. There are 1000s of coins and notes, even in lower grades, that catalogue at just a few dollars that are never seen offered for sale. Next time you look at a KM or Pick catalogue ask yourself, does that price look realistic, taking into consideration, the size of the country, the number of coins issued, were they all issued, the year or period the coin was issued, were they all dated that year, potential survival rate of higher grade coins especially UNC, were coins collected at the time the coin was issued and when did you last see one offered for sale.

If you see a coin is readily available, the price you might have pay should be catalogue value or lower. Many modern coins are available at a fraction of their issue price and in many cases just over their intrinsic gold or silver value. If you seldom if ever see the coin offered for sale, maybe you should take the advise of a good friend of mine. "If you want it, buy it, you may never see another one".

Good Collecting – Stewart Wright.

AUSTRALIAN SHIPWRECK COINS

The 'Batavia'

Batavia, the flagship (600 tons) of the Dutch East Indian Company, was wrecked on Moring Reef off Beacon Island in the Abrolhos group of islands 60 kilometres west of Geraldton on the Western Australian coast, on June 4 1629, while en route to Java, the most infamous of the West Australian shipwrecks.

Of 316 passengers and crew that set out on the voyage, only 124 made it to their final destination, with the majority being murdered (having survived the shipwreck) by mutineers. Of the twelve treasure chests on board, ten were said to have been recovered from the wreck at time the survivors were rescued, one was dispersed in the confusion of the ship hitting the reef and one was unaccounted for.

The site was excavated by the Maritime Archaeology Museum from 1972-1976. Timbers and other artifacts from this wreck form the basis of a unique museum display of the reconstructed ship in the Western Australian Maritime Museum.

The Batavia's treasure of coins came from a wide range of issuing entities, showing the profusion of different types of coins in use at that time.

Of the coins recovered from the wreck, no one issue is common and most are rare to very rare with some unique.

The 'Rapid'

A three masted wooden vessel of 367 tons, registered, Boston, USA, 1807, the Rapid was wrecked at Ningaloo Reef near Point Cloates, WA on 7 January 1811. The ship left Boston on 29 September 1810 for Canton with a mixed cargo which included 330,000 Spanish dollars. After the ship was wrecked, the crew of 22 set fire to what remained of the ship and then left in three boats. All apparently reached safety. Most of the valuable cargo was salvaged.

In 1978 divers located 1000's of coins, anchors, cannon and general items on the seabed off Point Cloates, thus the wreck site of the Rapid was discovered. Although the name of the vessel was unknown for quite some time, it was finally identified by the WA Museum in 1981. The finders were awarded $30,000 for their find, but had to hand over the coins, which eventually totalled over 19,000 Spanish silver dollars.

Very few coins from this wreck are in the hands of collectors.

The 'Zuytdorp'

A "VOC" merchant ship, ran into cliffs (now known as Zuytdorp Cliffs), 48 kilometres north of the Murchison River while on a voyage to the Dutch East Indies, in June 1712.

It has been estimated that the ship was carrying some 2 million coins; only 9000 of which have been recovered to date because of the inhospitable conditions of the wreck site. The remains of the Zuytdorp lie at the bottom of sixty metre cliffs which are pounded most of the year by huge swells from the Indian Ocean.

Very few coins from this wreck are in the hands of collectors.

6396 Union Bank of Australia Limited £1 1st January 1889. ADELDAIDE overprint on MELBOURNE domicile. Similar to Banks of Issue of Australia, MVR 2c. 198x119mm. Young Queen Victoria seated on throne at top left. Ship & Britannia at top centre. Printed by Perkins, Bacon & Co London. 2/F 412683 & dated 1st Jan 1889. MELBOURNE overprinted with 3 red lines & ADELDAIDE in red capitals. Reverse. Five geometric "white line" ovals, with the denomination figure in the centre of the ovals either side of the centre. Hand dated 7/8/1897 top right corner. It would appear that there was a shortage of Union Bank notes printed on the Adelaide domicile which was issued with the "J" prefix. It is not known if the overprint was done in Melbourne or on arrival in Adelaide. Of the highest rarity this being the only known example in private hands & perhaps the only known specimen in existence.
