- 4197 Australia: 1914-18 Distinguished Conduct Medal to Wounded in Action, 13th Bn Lewis Gunner, DCM. GVR, impressed officially: '3930 L.CPL. C. FINCH, 13/AUST. INF.' Charles Finch, born Youghal, Co. Cork, Ireland, enl Sydney 31/12/1916 aged 44 years and 5 mths, to UK with 1st PNR, BN, to 13 BN. AIF 17/Sep 1917, WIA (GS. left thumb), DCM recommended for action 8/8/1918, returned to Aust July 1919, died 5/9/1935. A Lewis-gunner with the 13th Bn, real fighting citation & who on the 8th August 1918, fought alongside Gerald Sexton, (real name Maurice Buckley & would later in the war win a VC as a Lewis Gunner). Both men were awarded the DCM on this day as Lewis-gunners with 13th Bn. In the unit history of the 13th Bn, 'The Fighting Thirteenth' Finch is mentioned on page 151 describing the battle of Hamel, 'In all of this great advance into the unknown, from the time we crossed the Green Line, our scouts & Lewis-gunners were naturally the first to come onto the enemy or under their fire, & without exception, they were wonderful, over and over again rushing posts, or drawing enemy fire while their mates did so. The Lewis-gunners generally fired from their hips as they rushed ahead in order to get better shots at runaway bodies of enemy, or at machine-guns holding up any part of the advance. Corporal Gerald Sexton (real name Maurice Buckley, who later won the V.C.) saved many lives by the almost incredible, even uncanny, promptness and skill with which he used his Lewis-gun, quickly silencing enemy opposition on four occasions. While advancing through crops south of Morcourt a hidden gun fired into the Bn and caused several casualties. Sexton stood up in full view of the enemy, calmly noted the position of the gun from the flashes & still standing, fired a magazine at the flashes and put the gun out of action. He received his DCM for the day's work. Pte. C. Finch vied with Sexton in this Lewis-gun work. Recommendation for DCM 'During the advance near MORCOURT east of CORBIE on the 8th August 1918, Pte Finch was No. 2 of a Lewis gun crew of one of the leading companies. Early in the action the whole of the crew except Private Finch became casualties. Finch then took charge of the gun & carried it and the spare parts bag, in addition to this panniers, right to the final objective. On more than one occasion during the advance he brought his gun into action most effectively, and when assisting to cover the consolidation, he continued to use his gun in a most aggressive manner. Observing an enemy machine gun in action on his flank he promptly engaged it. The enemy gunners immediately took cover but moving their gun to a better position, again opened fire upon our men digging in. Finch then, without regard to his own danger, rushed the gun killed two of the crew with a bomb, and took the remaining five prisoners, these & the gun; he brought to our lines single handed. Private Finch's great courage & fighting qualities cannot be too highly recommended.' Official citation states: 'For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. At the commencement of the attack he was No.2 of a Lewis gun section. Early in the advance the whole crew except this man became casualties. He took charge of the gun and carried it and the spare parts, in addition to his panniers, to the final objective, several times bringing it into action with great effect, and covering the consolidation by this fire. Finally he rushed out & bombed a machine gun killing two and capturing five of the crew, bringing them and the gun back with him single handed.' gVF. 6976 1819 Bellingshausen Antarctic Exploration Medal in silver, 42mm by Sculptor L. Shilov. Struck by the St. Petersburg Mint, Russia in commemoration of the departure of the Bellingshausen Expedition to Antarctica in 1819. Obv: Portrait of Czar Alexander I. Rev: Ships names ('Vostok'/'Mirnyi'). A number of these medals appear to have been carried aboard ship as presentation/trade/propaganda pieces. Thaddeus Von Bellingshausen, 1778-1852. A Russian Naval Officer who contributed greatly to the exploration of the Antarctic. His expedition was probably the first to sight the actual Continent of Antarctica. In March 1819, Czar Alexander I of Russia announced 2 expeditions of Exploration, to the Arctic & Antarctic Oceans. Bellingshausen was appointed to lead the Antarctic Expedition with the ships 'Vostok' & 'Mirnyi' - Belinghausen commanding the first vessel. They reached the Antarctic in January 1820. After exploring areas within the Antarctic Circle, they headed North, arriving in Sydney in April 1820. Bellingshausen stayed in Sydney, entertained & re-victualled by the NSW Governor Lachlan Macquarie (under instructions from the Colonial Office) and was permitted to establish his Observatory on North Head. Entertainments included a trip to the Blue Mountains to see the 'Three Sisters' where the Russians also conducted scientific and geological studies including measuring the height of the Blue Mountains. He used Sydney as a base for several forays into the Pacific, finally sailing again for the Antarctic in November 1820. Upon departure, Bellingshausen was presented with the ultimate in souvenirs: a number of Holey Dollars! Bellingshausen's diary mentions his gift of one of these iconic Australian coins to the Viceroy of Peru. Bellingshausen left detailed & meticulous narratives of his stay in the early Colony of NSW & his official artist & officers have left valuable pictorial records of Sydney & its surrounds. Belingshausen eventually rose to the rank of Admiral. The 'Bellingshausen Antarctic Medal' is known in bronze, but is so rare in silver that it makes the Cook 'Resolution & Adventure' Medals appear common! Probably the rarest of the Antarctic Medal series & with good Australasian provenance. Holed for suspension at 12 o'clock. gF. Provenance: Nick Kamper of Bundena (N.S.W.), ex boy Cossack acquired the item in the mid 20th Century from a Persian seaman dying in a Sydney Hospital who stated that he picked it up 'in the South Sea Islands'. Probably a token of esteem given to a Native Chief by Bellingshausen judging by the look of the crude suspension piercing. Previous offered Status International Auction where it sold for $15,000. # A few observations and comments.

2020 has proved to have been a very challenging year. Covid 19 has put Australia and the World under never before experienced pressures.

For Status International the biggest problems were the inability for our staff to travel from interstate to work on lotting material already to hand for the catalogue, the initial dry up of material for auction and the near total collapse of the postal system. The post was our biggest problem. It was a total unknown if it was going to take weeks or even months for catalogues to arrive and if we held an auction, how were we to get the lots despatched to successful buyers in a timely fashion. (After several months of chaos the postal system has been largely sorted out.)

Because of all these problems we decided to cancel the May auction.

The Covid lockdown has been both good and bad for the hobby. With so many people in lock-down there has been a resurgence in all types of collecting, not only of coins and banknotes but also militaria and stamps and I am sure others areas we do not deal in. In coins prices of many modern issues have risen, sometimes dramatically.

The precious metal market has also seen a dramatic rise since our last auction with silver having risen from around A$25 an ounce, peaking at over A$41 an ounce and the gold price rose from around A$2100 an ounce to over A$2850 an ounce.

At the peak of the market the gold content of a sovereign had risen over A$175 over the past year. At the time of writing the gold price was just above A$2750 and reserves on gold coins have been based on this figure.

With the rise in gold, catalogue prices are totally out of date. Prices for gold coins in the recently released Renniks' catalogue were not revised from the previous edition. A large number of KGV sovereigns in UNC are now priced at $100 or so below their gold content making the valuations somewhat meaningless. Premium sovereigns have also seen considerable price rises in the market place in recent times, none of which are reflected in the current catalogue.

Even the gold value of the humble 9ct fobs and medallions has risen about $8 per gram since our offering resulting in higher reserve prices for these popular items. On the positive side, the value of all the gold and silver collectors own has increased in value.

The market continues to evolve and change, often for no logical reason other than many buyers seem to follow current popular trends, not always to their financial benefit.

Collectors should not be scared to go against the trend or put off buying pieces for their collection because a particular collecting area seems to be less popular or out of fashion than it once was. Instead they should regard it as an opportunity to obtain items at cheaper prices than they may have been available for in the past. In the long term they are unlikely to regret it.

Having been in the numismatic business for 47 years I have seen many trends come and go. One thing I know for sure is rare items and items of quality have usually appreciated in value over the years and collectors should take the opportunity to fill gaps in their collection when opportunities arise.

This auction has a wide and varied offering, the highlights are many, but I will not detail them and will leave it up to you to peruse the 200+ pages of the catalogue to discover them for yourself

Good collecting
